

Berkeley STARTALK 2014 Group 2 Final Project:

Goal:

- I can make invitations and respond by either accepting, declining offers or negotiate using the phrases and structures learned in this unit.
- I can design a prize-winning poster.

1. Skit:

You are helping AMS to invite exchange students from China to join the summer activity. You will bring in a Chinese poster you have designed and present it to your classmates from Zhuang Laoshi's class. After introducing the activity, you are going to make invitations. Your classmates will decide whether they would be interested in joining you for the activity. You may need to change the time, location or type of activity depending upon their responses. The face-to face exchange should include the following information:

1. BE CREATIVE AND HAVE FUN!
2. Time or duration and location
3. Mentioning at least 8 activities during your conversation.
4. Your skit needs to include the following language functions: acceptance, refusal, negotiation and other ones you feel it will make your skit more interesting.

2. Poster:

You and your partners are going to design a poster for a poster competition!!!

All the participants at Berkeley STARTALK will be the judges. The winners will get a surprising prize. This poster could also be used for your skit. This poster is to attract people to join you for a summer activity or summer camp. The poster needs to include

1. BE CREATIVE AND HAVE FUN!
2. Time,
3. Location,
4. The type(s) of activity.
